

Environmental Policy

Alphaprint (Colchester) Limited produces a high standard of quality design, print and finishing. We offer a complete service for all printing needs. Including brochure, leaflets, stationery and folders. Our wide range of clients includes Private Companies, Government Departments, Local Authorities and Charitable Organisations.

We recognise that these processes have an impact on the environment and we are committed to reducing these impacts, and protecting the environment.

This is achieved through a programme of continual improvement aimed at preventing the pollution associated with our activities.

In order to manage our improvement processes, we set ourselves environmental objectives to reduce our impact on the environment.

All employees are trained to understand, implement and improve our environmental management system. Environmental Improvement Meetings are held regularly to help us achieve these objectives; these are defined and reviewed annually at the company's Management Review Meeting.

The Company aims to reduce, re-use and recycle all materials to minimise waste and to use environmentally friendly suppliers and sub-contractors so far as reasonably practicable.

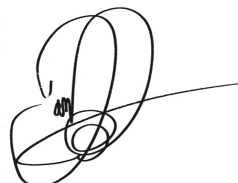

In order to ensure the above commitments, the Company has implemented the environmental management system, which satisfies the requirements of ISO 14001:2015.

We will meet all relevant current UK environmental legislation and any other requirements that applies to our business, and take a proactive approach towards any pending environmental legislation.
